DAS116 : Infection Control

This course presents the background, importance, and practical application of disease transmission prevention and infection control in dentistry, including regulatory agency guidelines. Also presented is the foundation of oral disease prevention including patient education guidelines in oral self-care practices and nutrition.

Credits	4
Clock Hours	60
Lab Hours	40
Lecture Hours	20
Prerequisites	None