CM040 : Speech I

This course provides student with a general overview of the oral communication process in a variety of situations and applications. Public speaking and debating are the heart of this course. Students are introduced to topics including conquering the fear of speaking, overcoming communication pitfalls, and using speech communication in everyday life.

Credits	1
Clock Hours	20
Lecture Hours	20
Prerequisites	BT101, SC010